

Frost the snowman

One cold winter day, two children made a snowman

A magic hat fell from the sky.

The children put the hat on the snowman and he began to dance around. He was alive. They named him Frosty.

Frosty and the children played games.

But the sun became too hot and Frosty started to melt.

Frosty hurried to town and met a traffic cop. But frosty only stopped a moment when the traffic cop hollered "Stop!"

Frosty had to hurry away. He told the children "Goodbye and don't you cry, I'll come back again someday".

Frosty hurried away over the hills of snow.

Frosty comes back every winter when the snow swirls and children dream.
